Presenter's Bio

Born deaf to deaf parents, and with a deaf sister, Dr. Byron W. Bridges uses ASL for primary communication throughout his life. He also went to two different deaf schools as well as attending public schools. Byron obtained his Bachelor's degree in Deaf Studies, Masters degree in Linguistics and concluded his doctoral work in Deaf Studies and Deaf Education degree at Lamar University.

Because of his love in language and culture, Byron involves himself in with deaf sports, deaf clubs, deaf fishing organization, and state/national organizations of the deaf most of his life. Byron has also produced and published a book, DeafTend Yours and produced many deaf-related videotapes/DVD as well as teaching/lecturing nationally about ASL and interpreting. He has been in the field of ASL linguistics, interpreting and college teaching ASL as a second language for a total of thirty years. Byron is currently a certified deaf interpreter (CDI) through the national organization, Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf.
